THE MINISTER OF WAR RESIGNS

On Account of a Difference With the President-The State of Sao Paulo Reported to Have Joined the Insurgents-The Insurgents' Southern Army Marching on Rio de Janeiro and a Big Battle is Impending-Admiral De Mello Resumes Command.

Copyrighted, 1891, by the Associated Press. Rio De Janeiro. Feb. 15.—Senhor Galvao, minister of war, has resigned owing to disagreements with President Peixoto regarding the treatment of political prisoners.

Colonel Macedo, commander of the fort of Santa Cruz, has been arrested upon suspicion of being a spy of Admiral De Mello.

The rebels appear to be making headway in Parana, which state is said to be in the hands of the insurgents. Sao Paulo, the capital of the state of that Paulo, the capital of the state of that name, apon which the rebels were recently reported to be marching, after having made a landing to the south of Santos, is said to be disposed to join issue with the insurgent force. Sao Paulo has hitherto been considered to be loyal, but there seems no doubt that the city is disaffected.

Reports from Sao Paulo roceived here say that the souther a force which landed with the intention of marching upon Sao Paulo has suddenly been instructed to march direct upon Rio De Janeiro with the intention of attacking President Peixoto in the rear. The government has sent troops to meet the rebel army and a battle is said to be imminent on the frontier of Porana and Sao Paulo. In addition, the dispatches received here say the state of Alagoas has revolted and declared itself in favor of Paulo. In addition, the dispatches re-ceived here say the state of Alagons has revolted and declared itself in favor of the insurgents.

The exact whereabouts of Admiral the insurgents.

The exact whereabouts of Admiral DeMello continues to be somewhat of a mystery. The general opinion is that he is cruising off the port of Santos and co-operating in some manner with the southern force which recently landed near Santos. Admiral DeMello, it is added, has so far recovered his health as to be able to resume active command of the Republica and to be taking steps to attack Santos. So far as the coming election is concerned there is little or nothing to be said except that the constitutional or government candidate is said here to be the favorite. The government candidate, Senbor Prudenti Morses, is said to be actively at work and to be gathering supporters every day.

Admiral Da Gama is worse to-day and will probably die of the wounds which he received in the battle of Armacao.

"By dad," said Mr. Dooley, the other night, "I'm goin' to r-run f'r aldherman, I am so. Hogan was just in here an' he was ta-alkin' about his little kid. He an' th' gossoon's mother can't make un their minds about what the kid'll be. Hogan he says, 'The ould woman,' he says, wants to make a priestiv him,' he says, 'Wants to make a priestiv him,' he says, 'Sat I,' he says, 'I think he ought to be a lawyer.' 'Don't ye do it, Hogan,' says I, 'Don't ye do it, Hogan,' says I, 'Don't ye do it, says, I. There's priests an' lawyers,' I says, 'nough,' I says, 'an' get thim out again,' I says. 'Make him an aldherman,' I says. An' thin what d'ye think the big fool asks me? 'Where can I find a school,' he says, 'to ind him to.' School, mind ye, Jawn, 'School?' says I, 'Faith, Hogan, if ye don't sind him to school at all, at all, he's sure,' I says,' to be wan.

"But 'is thrue I've told ye there's no job like it. No work or worry. Nawthin' but sit down with ye'er hat cocked over ye'er eyo an' ye'er feet on a manogany table, an' let th' roly-boly dhrop into ye'er mit. Th' most worrek an aldherman has to do is to presint himself with a gold shar wanst a year so he won't forget he's an aldherman. Whin he has th' shar upon him he can go annywhere an' devyle th' cint to pay. 'Tis good fr annything fr'm a ball to a christenin', an', by gar, Billy O'Broyn wurrked it on th' church. HIS BRIGHT RED SUIT OF HAIR, Queer Erperience of a White Man

Among the Utes. Among the Utes.

"It was in Colorado in 1874," said
Harvey C. Smartwood, of Canon City,
Coi., to a Washington Post reporter,
"before the influence of the white man

"hefore the influence of the white man was utterly dominant.

"As you see, nature saw fit to give me a shock of carmine colored hair. When I first went among the Indians they all thought that it was painted, just as they universally paint their own bodies and faces and heads. An old chief came up to me one day and looked at my hair very carefully, 'Ugh,' said he, and then, turning to the guide who had our party in charge, he asked him to ask me where I got the kind of paint that would color and not be greasy or look dauby. The guide told him my hair wasn't painted, but he wouldn't believe him. I didn't know what he was after. I had an idea that he was calculating how nice my red scalp would look hung about his dirty old body, and was inclined to resent it.

"Finally the guide asked was if I.

chnod to resent it.

"Finally the guide asked me if I would object to putting water on my hair. He said the Indians wouldn't behair. hair. He said the Indians wouldn't be-lieve it wasn't painted until they saw that water wouldn't wash the color out. Of course, I took some water and rub-bed it on my hair, and then showed my hands to them. It took four or five days of wondering examination to con-vince them that I hadn't found some particularly fine paint and got myself up in a bright red suit of hair."

A Peculiar Pennsylvania Product.

The trial of the Mansfield rioters has brought to light a good many curious products of life among them, but none more curious than the lad called to the more curious than the lad called to the witness stand yesterday, whose language was a composite of German, Italian. Slav, Polish and English, and which the interpreter could not make out. He appears to have been reared in a bearding house where all these nationalties are represented, and from the speech of each representative selected words for a language of his own—the Volapuk of the bituminous coal region. As one thinks, so he is, If Max Muller be right in holding that thought and languages are so he is, If Max Muller be right in hold-ing that thought and language are identical, that there can be no thought—with-out least, no conceptual thought—with-out language, what a composite in char-acter this lad must be. There is no other country in the world where the like of him could be developed so natu-rally, for there is no other where there is such a flow and edifying of the races. He is a phenomenon, and deserves the attention of the savants.

MAN wants but little here below, But wants that little good.

Nine out of ten men when asking for a drink, will simply ask for "something good," and out of the nine there are not two who know when a drink of good whiskey, brandy, gin or rum is solid them. Few hotels or venders of liquors them. Few hotels or venders of liquors can assure their customers that the liquors set before them are absolutely pure and old. One tastes almost as good as the other; but if you want to be sure that you are buying only a pure liquor, we advise you to look at the bottle and see if the name of Max Klein is blown in the bottle, and his signature on the label, and if you see it there, you can bet your best dollar that you are getting a "straight" article. The Puzzle Solved.

Perhaps no local disease has puzzled and balled the medical profession more than nasal catarrh. While not imme-diately fatal it is among the most nau-seous and disgusting ills the flesh is heir to, and the records show very few or no cases of radical cure of chronic catarrh by any of the many modes of treatment until the introduction of Ely's Gream Balm a few years ago. The success of this preparation has been most gratify-ing and surprising. No druggistis with-out it.

"That changes the complexion of things," mused Wigwags, as he gazed on his wife's dressing case.—Philadelphia Record.
